Susan Groves

Staff RN at Lee Health

Summary

I have a vast amount of experience as a bedside nurse. Bedside nurses provide education to patients, families, new nurses, and nursing students. After obtaining my Master's degree in Nursing Education, I feel I am better qualified to provide education to anyone seeking to learn or needing to learn. My ultimate objective has always been to teach. I enjoy mentoring new nurses and nursing students. I also enjoy helping to ensure that my practice is up-to-date with evidence-based guidelines. I worked for nearly 2 years as a Clinical Nurse Educator in a busy surgical intensive care unit. There I learned so much about the application of educational concepts in clinical practice, and, just as I did when I was a bedside nurse, I learn something new every day. As a Continuing Education Specialist, I was involved with on-boarding new employees. I worked to develop training programs when an educational need is identified. I help with educational conferences, and also coordinate all the CPR training within the institution. I truly enjoyed my work!

Now I am honored to have the opportunity to once again practice bedside nursing in a progressive ICU. I am looking forward to learning new things and working with a diverse group of nurses. I see a lot of personal growth ahead and I'm excited about that prospect.
