Deirdre Murdoch

ER/TRAUMA NURSE at Doctors Hospital at Renaissance Health System

McAllen, Texas Area

Summary

I am a straight forward mature RN who started from a Medical floor to the advanced life support in very busy ER/Trauma centers . I have 15 years experience in care, compassion and take my work seriously and am very passionate about my work as a care giver. Whether in the capacity of a hospital or the community offering my time to visit less fortunate people who are unable to seek medical care outside the home. My desire is to continue to help as many people as I am able to do in this lifetime to make others safe and healthy with the God given knowledge I have. I have never been more satisfied as I am in the nursing field. Through education, and teaching people can feel like they are in control of their lives and take responsibility for their health.

Spent two years in Cameco, Key Lake, as an occupational health nurse. Part of my job was to educate different team members with regards to their health, their medication, and was part of a collaborative safety program. Provided employees and contractors with information pertaining to their specific needs and health issues. Work directly with the safety department to ensure each employee worked safely with in the workplace. Created fun and educational ways to learn about health while encouraging participation in group activities.

I am a retired veteran (licensed mechanic) of the Canadian Armed Forces. I spent 8 years as a Social Worker in Alberta. Spent several months traveling in and around the area with the honorable Jack Shields from Fort McMurray working with him and his team bringing educational supplies to northern communities.
