Summary

“There is no greater calling than to serve your fellow men. There is no greater contribution than to help the weak. There is no greater satisfaction than to have done it well.” - Walter Reuther

I recently graduated with my Doctorate of Nursing Practice from Augusta University. I will sit for national certification as a Family Nurse Practitioner in June. I am currently seeking an opportunity that will allow me to improve the health of those in my community. The past 5 years, I have worked as a critical care nurse on a 24 bed mixed medical/level II trauma ICU. I started as a staff nurse, then served as a charge nurse, and as a patient experience champion for my unit. As a patient experience champion, I spent a great deal of time speaking with patients and their families about how they had been treated during their hospital stay. I came to realize that patients expect excellent clinical care, but what they remember and care about most is how they are treated. Patients demand that we treat them with dignity and respect. This can only be accomplished by excellent communication and forming a relationship with the patient. That is my commitment as a future healthcare provider; to foster relationships that will allow me to provide high quality care with dignity and respect.
